Is the vast amount of unrest, distrust, ill feeling and class hatred manifested in outbreaks of violence during industrial disputes, in the ravings of men and women from the public platform, in the condemnatory of the Government, in the legislative "class blocs," due to an organized movement?

Back of these manifestations, working with a skill and energy that might better be employed for good than evil, is there a centrally directed, ably managed and sufficiently financed organization?

As the answer is yes, to both questions, the next inquiry naturally is, "What is this movement? what is this organization?"

The movement is commonly called communism or bolshevism, and communism or bolshevism is not new. It is Illuminism again under a new name, that is all. Those who have read history carefully, who have seen the same thing in the past, the same thing in the ravings of men and women from the public platform, the same thing in the condemnatory of the Government, the same thing in the legislative "class blocs," due to an organized movement?

Vacation School Will Open Monday at Christian Church

Final arrangements have been completed for the Daily Vacation Bible School which will be opened Monday morning at the Christian Church. The school will be under the direction of Miss Sophie Gilmore and the other members of the church. It will open at 9 o'clock and close at 11:30 each morning, from Monday to Friday. Miss Virginia Lewis, teacher of English in the High School, will be supervisor. Miss Florence Patterson has been engaged as assistant, in charge of primary work. There will be other able assistants. Speaking on work of the vacation school Miss Lewis said:

"In every community where there has been a daily vacation Bible school it has been popular and successful. Both Uniontown and Scottsdale have in former years had similar schools and are continuing them. The vacation school serves a double purpose. It instructs the child in Bible stories, songs, games and hand work, and at the same time keeps the child happy on his summer mornings. Bible study is in the form of stories, dramatization and picture cutting. In hand work the child is taught to make interesting things which will be useful as well. The school proposes to show the children things to do and as an important by-product to impress on their minds these principles underlying character in citizenship, in home making and in religion. Such a school, which will relieve the parents, as well as help the children, in observing of encouraging them from every citizen interested in child welfare. Anything in the community which tends to produce better Americans should receive all possible support from the public."

So far, Miss Lewis announced, a number of parents have enrolled their children with the enrollment committee, the chairman of which is Miss Sophie Gilmore and the other members, Mrs. James Charlesworth, Mrs. W. W. Korn and Mrs. W. S. Stimmel. When the number that can be accommodated have been enrolled no others will be received. Children not already enrolled may register at the opening of the school Monday morning, or they may see members of the committee before that time.

The sessions will be held in the fine new gymnasium of the Sunday school plant which is nearing completion. This has been equipped with the requisites for a modern vacation school. It is light, airy and cool.

Out of town guests were Miss Edna King, and Miss Mabel Rosemeyer, of Scotland; Miss Harriet Wiley of Dawson; Mrs. Henderson Boyd and Miss Mildred Goodman of Uniontown and Mrs. William Harris of Monaca.

Radio Special -a New Gardner Sport Model

In but few automobiles built today has outstanding mechanical excellence been so well combined with true distinctiveness of appearance and equipment as in the new Gardner Four "Radio Special."

The "Radio Special" is finished in Gardner Limousine Blue, with black crown fenders and blue Tuxedo steel wheels, stenciled in gold.

The engine that drives the "Radio Special" is the same notably improved 45-horsepower motor found in all the latest Gardner Fours—the new four-cylinder motor with a five-bearing workshaft, and one that also embodies a considerable number of other important improvements. Included in the "Radio Special" too, are all the other chassis and body features that go to make up perfectly balanced values in the Gardner Four—among them a more efficient braking system, with larger braking area; a clutch with 50 per cent lighter action; the heavier frame, with five cross-members; lower, deeper seats, set at an easier angle.

The first showing of the Gardner "Radio Special" is now being made. Let us demonstrate this "Guaranteed Car" guaranteed in writing for one year.

FEATURES OF "RADIO SPECIAL" EQUIPMENT

Nickel-plated radiator shell. Drum type head lamps, round mirror, front bumper, tie rods, back seat, rear light frame—all aluminum. Motor and fan radiator cap. Aluminum supercharger on the running board. Aluminum body mouldings. Trunk rails of aluminum. Heavy double-structure steel top, blue color. Tuxedo steel wheels. 32 x 4 cord tires, stenciled with heavy tourist tubes. Spare tire and cover. Upholstery including seat and back of heavy brown Spanish leather.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL CAR IN AMERICA PAIGE

Built as Beauty Deserves

Superb Workmanship—Fine Performance—Long Life

How all your youthful instincts draw you to the Paige 4-passenger Phaeton! The trim lines, with a hint of dash, mark its fine breeding. You will always be proud of it. In sheer performance it will exceed your fondest dreams. Steering ease for the frailest hand. So gentle the Paige clutch that snailing or jerking never occurs.

Restful body positions with low-set seats and ample foot room make comfortable riding. Rear springs more than 5 feet long laugh at rough roads. No thought here of fatigue. Compartments and pockets provide space for traveling accessories—2 lock-equipped "cubby-holes" safely carry valued articles. And for long tours—a folding rack in the rear accommodates heavy luggage.

The Paige 70 H. P. motor performs eagerly at 2 miles an hour or 70, throttle-controlled. Rare, indeed, in your need for gear shifting. Motor life is increased and its youthful vigor retained, by the Paige high-pressure oiling system.

Bodies, too, are soundly built. No body squeaks or rattles mar the performance of your Paige—double strips of patent leather keep metal from touching metal or wood. Substantial finishing—not a piece of imitation leather in your Paige.

For years you can confidently expect the Paige to retain its fine performance, silence, comfort. Paige is the only manufacturer of finest quality cars with a tremendous volume in smaller cars the size and price of the Paige-butler-Jewett. This enormous volume reduces Paige overhead by hundreds of dollars on each Paige car—your saving when you buy your Paige.

Here on the Decrease.
Main chief cause of burden, the here, has decreased in numbers in the world at large about 11 per cent in the last ten years. Figures just made public by the United States Department of Agriculture show a falling off in the total head in 85 countries from 116,500,000 to 106,850,000. The decrease, however, occurred largely in Russia, where the decline was nearly 50 per cent, and the United States, where the total has dropped from 28,145,000 in 1914 to 20,859,000. Russia's total in that year of 21,700,000 has dwindled to 15,507,000, giving the United States the greatest number of gains were shown in Argentina, Canada, Spain and the Scandinavian countries.

PAUL REVERE RIDES AGAIN

Patriotic Observance In Which City of Boston and Other Communities Take Part.

In a patriotic observance the city of Boston, with the co-operation of several adjoining communities, in accordance with an annual custom, commemorated the famous midnight ride of Paul Revere. The celebration in Boston began the night before April 19, "Patriotic Day," when a descendant of one of Paul Revere's contemporaries hung a lantern in the belfry of the Old North Church just as was done on the night of April 18, 1775. Then on April 19 the ride to Lexington was repeated by a man on horseback, dressed to resemble Paul Revere, and who followed the route taken on that historic occasion. The messenger departed from a quaint little house in Boston where the real Paul Revere lived, and followed the route of the old house, standing undisturbed among the modern buildings that rise above it on all sides.

In spite of the momentous consequences of that 18-mile ride in the eighteenth century comparatively few persons saw Paul Revere as he raced from hamlet to hamlet to spread the alarm of the British advance. The population, of course, was small, and besides, the only thing which the lightest sleepers could have seen as they tumbled from bed was a flurry of dust and a dim figure disappearing in the dawn.

TOWN CRIER NOT OBSOLETE

Villages Along the Rhine Still Employ Him as a Dispenser of General Information.

The town crier is still an established institution in towns and villages along the Rhine. With drum and bell he summons the housewives to the meadows and slugs his news in a wailing monotone.

"Officers of the French forces order that all lights shall be out at 10 o'clock. No one allowed on the streets after that hour. Herr Bingen has received a new shipment of women's underwear and shawls which he will sell very cheap. The dollar is worth 15.500 marks to day. One German killed and two wounded by the enemy sentries in Taron. Twins were born at the house of Herr Gerzen, who lives by the fountain in Bismarck Platz.

The echoes die away down the narrow streets, the windows and doors slam; the bell rings again as the old man plods down the tough pavement to the next corner where the story is sung all over again. And so on until all the village has heard the news.

Dogs Efficient Guardians.
The treasures of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts are guarded each night by two giant police dogs who are trained to refuse to accompany anyone but the watchman who has charge of them. At intervals each night they are led through the darkened galleries. All employees have been cautioned against remaining in the building after hours because of the danger of attack by the powerful canines. But for the intervention of the watchman recently an official of the museum, who stayed until late in the evening, would have been torn to pieces.

"You Can't Fool Your Wife"

ABE MARTIN

On Appealing to Husbands

A WHINEY WIFE GRABBING AT THE LAST STRAW.

"Here we are in the 20th century and don't about everything in a new and improved way. Our women are votin' an' holdin' good jobs an' gittin' along without a lot of heavy petting. An' we are purty independent, except a considerable number of poor, misguided women still think that the only way to appeal to a man is through his stomach," declared Mrs. Em. Moore, today, at a lively meeting of the "Columbian Club." Then the speaker continued, "This crazy idea keeps women at home standin' over hot stoves an' scratchin' their heads 'till they think of somethin' delicious for their husbands when they might be down town engaged in somethin' useful. 'Husbands ain't worryin' about how to appeal to their wives! Of course an army travels on its stomach, an' it does a circus an' does ever'body. We've all got it, but it's that us women would get kicked out if we didn't cook up a big mess for our husbands ever' day in nonsense. Does anybody suppose a man would let a little thing like a good cook interfere with his heart affairs when the town's full of places where we can get our heads off for forty-cents or fifty-two cents, an' that includes pie or ice cream, too, along with spinach an' egg? Just look at the 'lovin' couples that eat at the New Palace café. The big lot of a man, whiney wife is goin' to have a gulch in a cannerie ain't a fair example. We know some husbands that might appeal to their wives by bringin' home a steak now an' then. Th' swell way, an' the only way that's stood the test of centuries, to appeal to a man is to be sweet an' amiable, an' if you happen to be reasonably shapely, all the better. A man just naturally gravitates to where he's treated right, whether there's any steak in sight or not. We've seen lots of this sallow men optimists, an' we've met fanatical overworked pessimists. We reckon there's lots of poor tremblin' brides 'day tryin' to study up somethin' grand to cook for big roughneck prooms that never spent over thirty-one cents for lunches in their lives. Th' average married woman has got enough to think about without havin' to run her brain over 'day o'er her husband's stomach. It's awful to mix up anything like a man's stomach with anything as dear an' sacred as the home. Of course no young married folks are goin' to bill an' coo very long on empty stomachs, but the wife that depends on her culinary art to hold her husband's love 'll be advertised for a restaurant job before she knows it. There's too many cheap, handy pinches 't eat these days for a man to pass up anything as scarce as a sweet amiable wife on account of his stomach. Copyright, National Newspaper Service

Lighting Your Home an Important Item

Is there any psychology in the illumination of a house? In other words are your feelings affected by the amount and kind of light that is contained within the walls of your home? Homes should be so well lighted that conscious and very positive pleasure comes to us from this source. Light has just such an effect upon us emotionally as has music, and just as has light's inseparable companion color.

In planning the wiring of a house the two most important things to keep in mind may be expressed by two words, abundance and convenience. This may sound extravagant, but if one stops to think of extravagance in terms of relatively low cost, in all probability, he surprised at the comparative slight cost of lighting his home. Take paper and pencil and make a calculation that will put the cost of illumination in its proper place on a list of expense items. Compare the amount invested in wiring and lighting a house with that of our investments in rugs and expensive draperies.

Wall Light in Lantern and Candlestick Design.

overstuffed furniture, attractive tableware, table linen, paintings, unadorned vases, or other articles that may occur to you. If you make a fair calculation you will be more liberal in the proportion of the money expended on light. And let us keep in mind continuously the double-barreled effect of light—the physical as well as the esthetic effect.

An Afternoon Dress Any Woman Can Make

If you make your own clothes here is a smart afternoon dress of georgette crepe that can be made with little expense and less work. Just a plain, straight pattern swinging from the shoulder should be used. A corsé is made by binding a piece of georgette with narrow black ribbon and embroidering on it a flower motif with the same ribbon. This is caught across the back of the frock at the waistline by a wide ribbon tied on the right side in a large bow. On the left side the georgette is lifted to the shoulder and held there with an embroidered flower. As there is an undeniable affinity between georgette and ribbons the result of the combination is perfect harmony.

PURCHASE FINE PERCHERON DRAFT STALLION.

The Connellsville Percheron Horse Breeders Association of which A. G. Edwards is secretary and treasurer, has just purchased of Bell Brothers, Wooster, Ohio, one of their finest Percheron draft stallions to be used in improving the draft horses in this section.

The horse is a beautiful black-gray in color and weighs 2100 pounds and is three years old. The horse was selected by a member of the association from the Bell stables and has been a prize winner at the Ohio State Fair and International Live Stock Show held in Chicago. This horse comes from the Bell stables with the highest recommendation from well-known horse men and is the last word in a draft horse.

Farmers and breeders living in the vicinity of Connellsville, like other live stock men throughout the country, are taking renewed interest in the production of draft horses and should be congratulated upon their selection of such a fine animal to carry on the improvement of draft horses.

The following is a list of those who have interested themselves in the purchase of the horse: C. M. Wilkey, Wilbur H. Wilkey, A. C. Edwards, J. W. McKittrick, John N. Rose, J. M. Leighty, H. T. Conkran, Corrado & Gallard, Louis O. White, Charles A. Richey, J. H. Barlicklow, B. F. Strickler, Austin Livingston.

The general public is invited by the owners to see this horse at the Clarence Wilkey Farm near Connellsville—Advertisement.—16-1t.

Sweaters for Season Are Unusually Smart

Some of the higher-priced sweaters which would be a sweater in name even if they have assumed jackets form, are beautifully adjusted to the figure by means of the added knitted band or the band which is simply a "narrowing" process. Most of these in the heavy silks are one color. When the sweater is a sweater coat then the front is gayly striped so that, with one's coat on, it looks like a guy in the waistcoat. And it is also very convenient to wear under the cape and when arriving at the golf links the cape is discarded during the game.

In the more openwork sweaters, those most girls can knit in an evening or two, the tendency is to make the whole sweater of solid color with the gayest of stripes around the bottom. The Navajo and other zebra effects are not quite so popular as they were last summer.

Sweaters of the lovely ice wool, like the curls of the same material, are rather too perishable to put much time or money on, yet for that very reason they will probably be liked, because their very fragility makes them extremely dainty.

Knitted dresses have lace designs, the kind our grandmothers used to knit. The sweaters, too, of the slip-on variety, have the lace designs. But the most sweater is the one best liked. It is a successor to the tuxedo, and since it is likely to fasten at the bottom, it will not have that stretched look at the sides that so many tuxedos have had, whether in the finest silks or in the harder wools.

Colors in Shoes and Hosiery for Summer

The new gray and beige shoes for women with gray and beige hosiery have exercised an immense amount of ingenuity in preserving their one-color simplicity without growing monotonous. Two kinds of leather, or two tones of the same leather, are precluded by the things that all shoes this year are permitted to do in the matter of shape. For not only is the pump good and the new sort of tongue shoe, but so is the shoe that looks like an etherealized oxford with more slashes than leather, as well as the shoe that has lost all sense of oxford origin line at the top. The single wide strap across the arch under which the foot slips is seen, too. But best of all, perhaps, is the sandal, not new, of course, but given such an impetus by the Egyptian craze that it is found in every thinkable shape and some that had to be invented. Sandals even show buckles surrounded by plaitings, possibly in belated recognition of the fact that the plait, too, was born by the Nile.

As for stockings, the colored or partly colored shoes demand beige, sand or nude; the gray and beige, stockings of the same color, but a shade lighter; none but the sheerest are considered smart. Heels are medium or high.

REVOLUTION TO OVERTHROW THE GOVERNMENT

Cent news from Prague—The state being the minority rule. C. E. Ruttenberg, regarded as the brains of the movement in the United States, the executive secretary of the Communist party on the witness stand in the same trial, said communism was the final expression of the "class struggle," pointing to history to show there always had been a class struggle, and that such there must continue to be until there had been established a world communist government.

Both men denied this movement contemplated the use of "force, violence, armed insurrection or acts of terrorism," to gain this end, yet both frankly admitted that once there was a "dictatorship of the proletariat" it would be followed by much bloodshed, since those who had been deprived of their property and civil rights under the constitution would fight to get them back, and the "dictatorship of the proletariat" would fight to retain them.

The evidence showed, however, that to overthrow the existing Government and secure control of industry, an armed insurrection referred to in all communist literature as "the revolution," is proposed.

That bloody revolution at this trial and from the mass of documents in the hands of the state, enough was adduced to warrant the following statement of facts:

There is, in this country, a well organized, skillfully managed and sufficiently financed movement to overthrow this Government and confiscate all wealth, by a bloody revolution should that become necessary, in order that these directing such a revolution may erect upon the ruins a purely socialist form of government and a purely communist form of business, forms which would take from the individual all hope, aspiration, initiative and inspiration, would crush in the human heart every spark of religious sentiment; would abolish the property rights and so the home surrounding; yes, would go even farther than that—would abandon the family relation.

This is not fiction, it is a fact. It is established by the undisputed writings and utterances of those who are leading in the movement. These leaders do not deny the utterances or writings; they merely seek to belittle, mislead and vilify those who seek to expose them.

If the communist movement in the United States came frankly into the open and expressed its objects freely and without dissimulation, and did not seek to corrupt the people by deception, the danger would not be great. The American people are too loyal to fall for communist deceptions. But this the communists do not do. They work almost entirely through organizations and movements which seem far from communist in their purpose, organizations which they have formed as a fraud on the members, or organizations the control of which they have secured through their "boring from within" system adopted from the French Syndicalists.

How Communism Operates. Communism, which you must not for a minute forget is Humanism of 150 years ago. Humanism which has caused the soil of France and Russia to be soaked with human blood; today it is in complete control of Soviet Russia. It operates through two movements: the Communist International and the Red Trade Union International—both these, in turn, being controlled jointly by an "inner circle." This "inner circle" issues all orders for work throughout the civilized world. The direct contact in the United States is the Central Executive Committee of the Communist party which consists of 12 members, one of which acts as the direct representative of the two Russian organizations above mentioned. The Central Executive Committee in the United States issues all orders through special couriers who seem able in some manner, to continually gain admittance to the country. These orders then, through the underground channels by the Communist party, go to all the trusted members. In numbers probably not exceeding 11,000 at the most.

These 11,000 members, however, are the public agitators in a large number of organizations, the names and all other objects of which are deceiving, and in this way orders from Russia are given, properly sugar-coated according to the groups to be reached, to several million persons. There are no less than 200 such organizations, many of them national in scope and many of them local, state-wide in their activities. Many of these movements, but founded by communists, but communists have gained control of them; many others were purposely formed by communists to reach certain groups of people.

Working Organization. Now, you take an average of 75 trained, skilled, clever communist leaders, knowing just the end they seek and faithful in their work—and do not forget they are trained, skilled, clever, have a set purpose and are faithful—and put them into 200 organizations, they seek the leadership because that is their first objective, and you can readily understand the influence for evil they will wield.

Give each of these organizations 50,000 members—and many of them have several times that number—and you can possibly understand the extent and character of the work of communism in the United States. Communists today employing the syndicalist system of "boring from within" are vigorously busy in labor unions, schools, colleges, churches, farmers' organizations, cooperatives, young people's movements, professional groups and even have the temerity to "bore from within" certain business men's organizations.

Underground With the Reds

An Exposure of a Systematic Attempt to Overthrow the American Constitution

Through a special arrangement with the New York Commercial The Courier, beginning Saturday, June 16, will publish a series of 19 copyrighted articles exposing the ramifications of the Bolshevik plot against the peace and security of America.

The disclosures, made by Fred R. Martin, a publicist who for many years has followed the efforts of foreign malecontents and enemies of society to foment trouble in this country, deal with an important conspiracy against the public welfare that has spread with startling rapidity.

They uncover the machinery throughout the country built up for exerting an invisible power for destruction.

They show how a astonishing lengths alien enemies of America have been able to drive propaganda and their underground organization without arousing Americans to the need of being on their guard.

They tell of the adroitly disguised methods by which these enemies of the public peace are seeking to seduce labor, the church, the public school, the higher schools and political organizations to further their attacks on American society.

They uncover, in short, a great scheme that has been developed with subtle diligence for the working of violence, treacheries and malicious disturbance, the building up of which has hitherto flourished almost unheeded.

If you want to know what Communism is, what it wants here, what it is already getting here, and what it will do to you, your wife and children and our country, you will find answer in these articles which will appear exclusively in The Courier during the next few weeks.

were being circulated in the United States 617 different publications, all advancing communism in some form. (Of these but 74 were printed in the English language in this country. All the others were printed in some foreign language in this country and sent here for distribution.)

Take a few rules as representing the amount of communist literature circulated in the United States last year and then take a little less than one quarter of an inch of that rule as representing the amount of literature circulated to expose and combat communism and you gain a fair idea of the actual conditions.

(The next article will deal with secret orders from the Red Trade Union International and the Communist International how to cause unrest, distrust, ill feeling and class hatred among non-communists in the United States.)

(Because of the brevity of this series of articles, many of the readers will want more complete data on the various phases discussed. A letter setting forth just the information sought, directed to Fred R. Martin, care of The Courier, will be personally answered by mail as promptly as possible. The Courier has arranged with Mr. Martin to render this service to its readers at no expense to them.—The Editor.)

Walter Hagen Loses Out in Golf Tourney

By Associated Press. TROON, Scotland, June 15.—Walter Hagen failed today in his attempt to win the British golf title for the second time.

Hagen made the fourth round in 75, giving him a total of 295, one more than A. G. Havers, British, who late this afternoon was leading the field. Hagen's failure to win means the return of the championship trophy to British hands after two years in American possession as the other outstanding American representatives, Joe Cartwood and Mac Donald Smith finished in 298 and 297 respectively while Johnny Farrell had an aggregate of 296 and George Aubuch of Boston was far in the rear with 329.

DISPUTE HOLDS UP OPENING MT. BRADDOCK ROAD

Question of Damages May Mean Work Will Go Over for the Summer.

CHERRIES IN MARKET

Special to The Courier.

DUNBAR, June 15.—Another turn of court is half over and still the Ferguson-Mount Braddock proposed road, which should have been reported to the March court, and been ordered opened at the present time, is still hanging fire, the trouble being on the question of damages. When the voters went over the grounds of the United Refractories Company, over the lands of which the road goes, its entire length, that company agreed to give free right of way if the township would fence both sides of the road and maintain the fence. This seemed satisfactory, but the attorney for the supervisors discovered that if that damages were assessed the county would have to pay the damages, so he wants the voters to assess the damages in order to save the township the expense of building and maintaining the fence.

The commissioners have no authority to construct the fence, but if damages are assessed the county has to pay that. Meanwhile, while this dispute is going on the people have to continue to suffer this great inconvenience for the need of a public road to Mount Braddock. The proposed road will shorten the distance from Ferguson to Mount Braddock almost six miles.
